Richardson's Greenhouse

Located in Loudonville, Richardson's Greenhouse is a family-owned-and-operated greenhouse and garden retail store in business for nearly 80 years. The company is currently managed by third-generation sisters, with the fourth generation getting more involved.

Trucks and other sturdy toys are tucked in with the perennials for little hands to discover.

Hanging baskets, mixed containers and Minions welcome customers to Richardson's Greenhouse.

Lush perennials on benches of varying heights with clear signage make it easy for customers to see the selection.

A potting bench lets customers leave the mess behind when potting up their purchases.

Cute and clever vignettes can be found throughout the Garden at Sheiyah Market.

A popular photo spot, the Sheiyah Market buggy indicates that the Buggy Brew coffee shop is open for business.

Sheiyah Market

Sheiyah Market is located in Berlin, the heart of Ohio Amish country, and spans four stores across more than 50,000 square feet. This campus offers gardening accessories and plants, fashion and home décor, and a coffee bar called the “Buggy Brew.” The Garden was built six years ago to meet the increased interest and demand for plants.

New arrivals of plant material are placed in a special section in the Garden.

DIG INTO THE FUTURE.

Just as the laptop outperformed the typewriter, Power Planter is the future of digging, banishing back aches, and sending shovels back to the shed.

Power Planter earth augers connect to cordless drills in a snap so you can replace digging with drilling! Customers plant more when they sail through soil and tame tough terrain with Power Planter.
